Dear Relic Entertainment,

I am pleased to recommend Zion Nimchuck for the Generalist Programmer position. Zion has been a student in many of my classes during the past year, so I have learned a great deal about him and his abilities, and I know he would do great if given the opportunity to work with you as a programmer.

Zion's determination to succeed has led him to do great in my classes. He consistently gets excellent marks on his homework and tests, and he participates in class regularly too.

Compared to the other students in his class, Zion's grades have always been at the higher end. This has led other students in his classes to ask him for help if they do not understand a lesson. Despite his busy schedule, Zion always balances his time, so he can help anyone who needs assistance with programming and Unity. During the years I've known him, Zion has worked to greatly improve his development abilities.

Due to his knowledge and great aptitude for learning and also his programming skills, Zion would be an excellent candidate for a programming position at Relic Entertainment. I have no doubts that his abilities and determination will continue to grow.

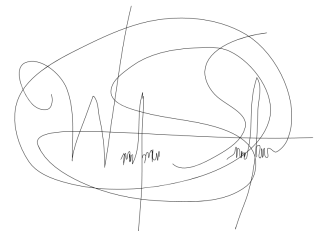

On top of being a great student and a hard worker, he's also a very nice and easy-going person, making it very pleasant to work and communicate with him.

The "Game Design Program at VFS" is a one-year intensive program and it's very packed of classes and information, ranging from several skills to improve the student's game development skills. We use Unity and Unreal Engine a lot and for several big projects. Learning gameplay programming, AI, State machines, networking, advanced game development and optimization techniques and a lot more. We also have the content of the programming classes to be oriented towards learning best practices coding standards and software design, including some design patterns.

Adding on top of his very noticeable curiosity and thirst for knowledge and improvement, all these things denote that Zion is very capable of learning many topics at once and getting a great understanding in a short time of more complex topics.

Sincerely,

Willy Campos - wcampos@vfs.com
